The best solutions for all your

Weighing requirements

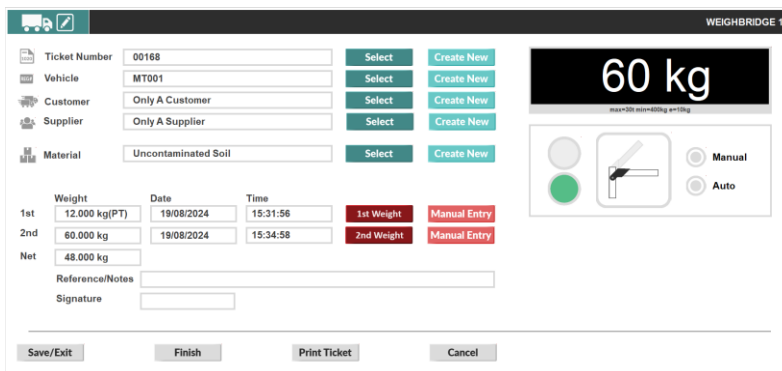

Phoenix Scales weighbridges are manufactured in the UK with all load bearing members being heavy duty universal beams that run in the same direction as the traffic flow to ensure the weights are directly on the beams for the full length of the weighbridge.

Surface plate is 10mm durbar, with all seams on the surface fully welded for additional strength and to prevent ingress of water or product spillage to the sub structure. Access to the loadcells and for debris removal is through removable 750mm plate sections at each end and in the middle on multi module machines.
